GERMANS RATIFY TERMS OF PEACE

Assembly at Weimar Adopts Resolution Accepting Conditions as Presented.

VOTE IS 208 TO 115

Foreign Minister Mueller Plaintively Declares Germany Is About to Enter Upon a Forty Years' March Through a Desert.

Weimar, July 10.—The German national assembly, by a vote of 208 to 115, adopted the resolution ratifying the peace treaty. Ninety-nine deputies abstained from voting.

The text of the ratification resolution, as introduced in the National assembly, consisted of two clauses, reading as follows:

"The Peace Treaty between Germany and the Allied and associated powers signed on June 28, 1919, and the protocol belonging thereto as well as the agreement relative to the occupation of the Rhineland signed the same day, are agreed to.

"This law comes into force on the day of its promulgation."

Blockade Lifting Next Step. The German assembly, by ratifying the treaty, makes it possible for the Allied and Associated powers to raise the blockade. Official notification was sent Germany June 29 that the blockade would be raised when the treaty was ratified.

Most of the ministers were present at the meeting of the National Assembly and there was a full attendance of deputies. Dr. Hermann Mueller, foreign minister, in introducing the government bills, explained that the hastening of the ratification order would bring about the lifting of the blockade.

"We are about to enter upon a 40 years' march through a desert," he said. "I can find no other term for the path of suffering which fulfillment of the treaty prescribes for us."

Accept Under Compulsion. Dr. Peter Spahn, leader of the Catholic Center party, said: "We agreed to the treaty under hard compulsion, to save ourselves from anarchy and to preserve the fatherland from internal ruin."

Herr Kretzig, Socialist Professor Schuecking, democrat, Dr. Traub, National party, and Herr Kahl, People's party, all violently protested the injustice of the treaty, the impossibility of its fulfillment and declaring that the day of Germany's liberation would come.

These speeches were greeted with such turbulent applause and handclapping that the president of the Assembly, Herr Fehrenbach, called attention to the fact that handclapping was against the rules and threatened to have the galleries cleared. The debate, however, proceeded, with similar speeches by other members and similar applause.

WAR BILL IS 30 BILLIONS

Secretary Glass Says Further Bond Issues Are Unnecessary.

Washington, July 10.—The war cost the United States $30,177,000,000 up to June 30, 1919.

Secretary Glass made this estimate in submitting to the Congressional Appropriation committee the preliminary statements of the Treasury on the condition of the nation's finances.

Further issues of bonds, Mr. Glass said, will not be necessary before the maturity or redemption of the Victory Notes, which have four years to run.

GOMPERS FEARS INVASION

Explains Why A. F. of L. Wants Limit on Immigration.

New York, July 10.—Opposition of the American Federation of Labor to unrestricted immigration during the next four years is based largely on a desire to checkmate "a combination of corporations, trusts and shipping companies" to bring immigrants to the United States under contracts which made them virtually "slaves to these trusts," Samuel Gompers declared in an address before the Pan-American Federation of Labor.

BRITISH DIRIGIBLE LEAVES

Eig Balloon Starts on Return Trip to Scotland.

Mineola, N. Y., July 10.—The British dirigible R-34 left Roosevelt field on her return cruise to Scotland.

The great ship, held in leash by 1,000 American balloon men, was released and floated leisurely up to a height of 200 feet, with her motors silent. The motors then began to whirr, and the craft, nosing upward, headed for New York.

ADMIRAL VON TIRPITZ

Britain May Demand Trial of Submarine War Director.

Great Britain will demand that Admiral von Tirpitz, author of Germany's submarine war, be brought to trial, according to the London Times.

MAY ABOLISH PAROLES

Signing of Peace Treaty to Benefit Enemy Aliens.

Attorney General, However, Stands by His Policy Toward Persons Convicted of Disloyalty.

Washington, July 10.—The department of justice has decided, now that the peace treaty with Germany has been signed, that the great majority of German and Austrian enemy aliens now at large on parole may safely be released from all parole obligations.

Attorney General Palmer, however, has not changed his policy, announced at the time of the conviction of Eugene V. Debs, with respect to citizens convicted under the espionage law and dangerous aliens still in confinement. Mr. Palmer said the department was continuing to review cases of persons convicted under the espionage act and that recommendations for clemency in a number of them would be presented soon to President Wilson. These do not include the cases of Debs or others of "similar importance," however. It was said the parole instructions would affect most of the aliens interned during the war, but no estimate of the number to be released was available.

Will Lift Commercial Censorship.

Paris, July 10.—Decision was reached by the council of five to lift the commercial censorship on communications with Germany simultaneously with the lifting of the blockade. The decision will not affect matters of a political nature.

Berlin, July 10.—The national assembly at Weimar passed the resolution ratifying the peace treaty late Wednesday, but not until every speaker had protested against the terms. The vote on the resolution was 208 to 115. "We are about to enter upon a forty year march across the desert," declared Foreign Minister Mueller. "We will never recognize its validity," said Herr Karl, of the People's party.

U. S. Party to Turkish and Bulgarian Treaties

(By United Press)

Washington, July 10.—The United States will be a party to the execution of peace treaties with Turkey and Bulgaria, although the country was not at war with these nations it was learned today. This country will be concerned, it was pointed out, because of the league of nations covenant which will go into each treaty.

BY L. C. MARTIN, (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, July 10.—The United States has been offered the moral leadership of the world and dare not reject it without "breaking the world's heart," President Wilson declared today in the senate when he presented the treaty of peace for ratification. "Shall we hesitate to accept this great duty," the president asked. The rejection of the league of nations he said would be a rejection of the world's confidence.

The president placed his speech on a small reading stand. His speech was about five thousand words in length. He told the senate the treaty would be a scrap of paper without the league of nations. The people demanded the league and will brook no denial he said. American material aid to Europe will be indispensable in days to come. If the league of nations is rejected the world's heart would be broken. America is a friend of all nations. America has just reached her majority as a world power. America's isolation ended twenty years ago. Moral leadership of the world is offered to America. The question is whether to accept or reject it. America shall in truth show the way to the world. The treaty squares with the fourteen points as well as with the practicalness of the situation. It is not exactly the sort of a treaty the United States would have written. "We have sought no special reparation for ourselves, but only the restoration of right and the assurance of liberty elsewhere. American fighting made victory certain. A league of free nations is a practical necessity. The president's speech took 39 minutes.

The Townley Trial

(By United Press)

Jackson, Minn., July 10.—Congressman J. M. Baer of North Dakota, was on the witness stand again today in the trial of A. C. Townley and Joseph Gilbert charged with conspiracy to teach disloyalty. Baer was questioned as to his views on the war. The defense offered to put in the record President Wilson's fourteen points to show that Congressman Baer had always supported them. The court denied admission of the points.

Big Airship Now Returning to England

BY W. R. HARGRAVES, (Staff Correspondent, United Press)

The wind was favorable for her flight, however. She circled over New York.

OIL FIRMS ALARMED

American Concerns in Mexico Ask Right to Arm Employees.

State Department Is Urged to Secure Permission for Drilling of New Wells.

Washington, July 10.—The state department is said to have been asked by representatives of American oil companies operating in Mexico to request permission from the Mexican government for their employees to arm themselves for protection against bandits.

It also was said that the department was asked to request permission for the oil companies to use airplanes in transporting money to the oil fields to pay their men so as to minimize the possibilities of the pay rolls falling into the hands of the bandits.

A third request, understood to have been made by the oil men, was that the United States government insist upon the revocation of the decree prohibiting the drilling of new oil wells. The representatives of the companies represented that Mexican federal troops were enforcing this decree.

CROP ESTIMATE IS LOWER

July Forecast Places Crop at 1,181,000,000 Bushels.

Washington, July 10.—Wheat production prospects were cut into heavily as a result of plant diseases and other conditions during June and a loss of 75,000,000 bushels from the June 1 estimates was indicated in the Department of Agriculture's July forecast, which placed the output at 1,181,000,000 bushels. Winter wheat showed a loss of 54,000,000 bushels and spring wheat 21,000,000 bushels. The winter wheat crop, nevertheless, will be the largest ever known.

ELKS DENOUNCE BOLSHIEVISM

Grand Lodge at Atlantic City Places Itself on Record.

Atlantic City, July 10.—Resolutions were passed by the Grand Lodge of Elks, condemning Bolshevism. One resolution said:

"Every Elk has taken a solemn obligation to support the constitution and laws of the United States of America, and we have been taught as one of the fundamental principles of the order that the American flag, typical as it is of one form of government, shall be in our hearts as loyal Elks. No man can be a Bolshevik and remain a loyal American citizen."

GOVERNMENT TO ASK ACCOUNTING

ARE FRAMING DEMANDS

Trouble Over Oil Claims, Continued Anarchy, Loss of Life and Constant Danger to Property Has Brought This Result.

Washington, July 10.—Venustiano Carranza, president of Mexico, may be asked for an accounting by the American government within a few days.

It is not expected that the accounting will be satisfactory and every indication points to the result that Carranza must go. As a sequel to the various acts of Carranza which have irritated the American government ever since American recognition assured him of power, this government has under consideration a showdown with Mexico.

Trouble over the settlement of Mexican oil claims, the continued anarchy in Mexico, the recurring loss of life and the constant danger of property has brought this result.

The attitude of Carranza in ignoring the State department in the settlement of oil claims and the establishment of a special commission of his own in New York for the settlement of these claims has been the last straw.

Disavowal Is Issued.

The State department issued a sharp disavowal of a published advertisement in a New York newspaper entitled the "Truth About Mexico," calling attention of Americans to the Mexican claims commission authorized by decrees of President Carranza of Nov. 24 and Dec. 24, 1917, and suggesting that all who have claims cognizable by this commission should make application at once for damages sustained. The intimation in the advertisement was that the American government had approved this method of settling the oil claims and this the State department tartly denies.

The statement followed an extended conference of representatives of oil interests in Mexico with Frank L. Polk, acting secretary of state.

While definite course of action has not yet been decided upon, one is under consideration and it is thought probable that it will be put into effect within a comparatively short time.

This program, it is understood, calls for the occupation of Mexican ports as the first step in the direction of a settlement with Carranza and future action is to be determined by events.

EN ROUTE TO WASHINGTON

Mexican Ambassador Carries Message to President Wilson.

Laredo, Tex., July 10.—Carrying a personal message from President Carranza to President Wilson which, it is said, assures the American chief executive conditions in Mexico are greatly improved, and voices the desire of the Mexican government for the most friendly relations with the United States, Ignacio Bonillas, Mexican ambassador to the United States, arrived here.

PARIS PAPERS WERE FINED

Censor Penalized Them for Criticizing President Wilson.

Paris, July 10.—Following the demand of Stephen Pichon, foreign minister, for a vote of confidence, the Chamber of Deputies sustained the cabinet by a vote of 256 to 202. The session was marked by a heated debate on the press censorship. Pichon admitting that Parisian newspapers had been fined for printing anti-Wilson sentiments during peace negotiations.

IMPROVED TYPE OF PLANE

Six New Rigid Airships Will Cost Britain $10,000,000.

London, July 10.—Six rigid airships of an improved type representing successive stages of development are under construction for the British navy. It was disclosed in the House of Commons by Walter Hume Long, first lord of the admiralty. These airships, he stated, would cost 2,200,000 pounds ($10,000,000).

KEEPS PRESIDENT AT HOME

Bill in House Would Prevent Him Leaving Country.

Washington, July 10.—The President of the United States would not be permitted, during his term of office, to leave the country to perform the duties of his office, except at Washington, under a bill introduced by Representative Campbell of Kansas, chairman of the House rules committee.

About four and a half days after leaving East Fortune, Scotland, the huge British dirigible R-34 descended without mishap at Roosevelt Field, Mineola, Long Island. This photograph shows the actual arrival of the first lighter than air machine to fly across the Atlantic after its history making trip. In the foreground and background are seen some of the thousands who cheered when this aerial triumph was accomplished.

WIRE SERVICE

Brainerd Appears to be on the Side
Lines When it Comes to Connecting With Minneapolis

People like to read the news.
Brainerd people can gather it, but when it takes two hours to send a press message at night out of Brainerd it shows that the receiving end of the Western Union in Minneapolis is lax or that it is not manned heavy enough. Two Brainerd operators tried to get Minneapolis from 10:30 p. m. July 8 on and eventually achieved it at 12:30 a. m. July 9.

When you make a kick over the wires to the Western Union you pay for your kick. News is perishable stuff and a man may run his legs off getting good stuff and have it collapse miserably because he cannot get it out of Brainerd for nobody appears to be in Minneapolis to receive it.

During the Minneapolis-trade tour visiting in Brainerd, Supt. Nelson said the policy of the company was "Service." This is a good slogan, especially so if it is lived up to.
A glaring instance recently was a paid in advance message from the News Tribune of Duluth delivered in Brainerd fifteen hours after being sent.

Another instance is the experience of Fred S. Cook. He contracted with the Western Union to deliver baseball reports. The first ones came in at 11 o'clock at night when the pool room was about to close. It is needless to say that with such experience Mr. Cook canceled his baseball bulletin service.

CRAB HAS STRANGE GROWTH

Process of Replacing Shell Takes Place Three Times During "Infancy" of Creature.

The crab's equivalent to the internal bones of animals is its tough outer shell, which does not grow. The baby crab is forced to get rid of this tough, confining prison. So it breaks itself loose internally and then splits its old protecting home across the extreme back ridge, creeping out in that way. It is a very delicate operation to withdraw the terrible claws and other limbs, as these are bigger at the extreme end, but these curious creatures have the power of withdrawing the blood into the body, and this greatly reduces the bulk of the appendages. When the crab has thus escaped from his old shell he is quite soft and forms a dainty meal for his enemies; his pinners, too, are useless. So while his new outer shell is hardening he has to hide in some cranny in the rocks. This new shell would obviously be the same size as (or even a trifle smaller than) the old if the crab merely kept quiet, as he is quite unable to "grow" when once the shell has hardened. To overcome this difficulty he swells himself out by absorbing as much water as possible, and remains in this artificially distended condition till the new shell hardens; then he at once gets rid of the useful water and leaves himself plenty of room for growth. The young crab changes its shell in this way about twenty times during the first three years of its life.

Mystery of Rain Unexplained.

The mysteries of rain are not yet cleared away. The forces of electricity, of magnetism, of radio activity, of ultra violet light and all the other agencies which may collaborate in the production of a downpour of rain are very obscure.

We know from Holy Writ that the wind bloweth where it listeth. Nothing whatever can be more expressive of the capricious and lawless character of the wind. And wind and rain come together; and the changes of temperature make what we call weather. In the South Sea Islands the natives have no word which means weather as the atmospheric conditions never change. The vast majority of human beings are in contrast and unending conflict with the weather. Hence the universal interest in its causes, whether the noise and the smoke of battle fields or the ashes from volcanoes or from the changes of temperature produced by vast conflagrations, such as are witnessed when a city is consumed in flames.

JAMIE'S FATHER

By MARJORIE PHILIPPS.

In the very midst of his joy, James Burnie was filled with distrust and contempt for himself. After all, what right had he to claim this favored woman's love, so willingly given? Between her ways and the ways of his people, a great gulf was fixed, and in the eagerness of his love for Madeline he had been too cowardly to refer to the humbleness of his old home, where his father still lived.

James Burnie had climbed rapidly the ladder of success and would gladly have shared its benefits with the rugged old Scotchman who stubbornly refused them all.

"I'll live as I like to live, Jamie," he had said. "New ways and new friends would bring me new pleasures."

So James continued in his splendid bachelor apartment in the city, while old Burnie Senior went happily about his household duties just a little farther away, keeping the floors as clean and the dishes as shining as when his faithful wife had been there to fulfill these duties. But the weekly visits of the younger James, were to himself a continual source of humiliation. When he had first met Madeline, he had adored her from afar, never dreaming that this crowning conquest might be his.

Madeline, the accomplished, reared in luxury, as mother and grandmother had been before her. Her love had gone out to join him as naturally as a flower seeks the sun, and their betrothal was inevitable. Now, only, as they planned their future together, did he compare mentally this father of hers, this polished accustomed man of a successful world, with the contented Scotchman bending in comfortably shabby clothes over his flowerbeds, or whistling cheerily as he placed the blue cups back in their cupboard.

What would Madeline say—what would she think—when he must bring this stooped old figure into her presence and present him as his father; hers, to be.

James Burnie was not a snob. In his soul he loathed himself for his trepidation this fancied picture occasioned. So, time went on, and in his anxiety he neglected to urge the setting of the wedding day.

The entertainments with which Madeline's irreproachable friends favored the engaged couple were brilliant and many. But beneath the strain of gaiety, perhaps, the girl's health began to fail; the color left her cheeks, and her eyes seemed to take on an appealing light. James Burnie and Madeline's father were alike concerned.

It was after the doctor had forbidden the acceptance of invitations, and suggested long rides in the open air instead, that the pretty color came back again, and Madeline's spirits grew brighter accordingly.

James Burnie often wondered at the curious looks she gave him. He wondered too, at a sort of gentle softness in her manner. Never had she been so endearing; more and more like a cloud before the sun of his happiness was the consciousness of this growing shame of his—of the inevitable fact of his rude old father. And then one evening when James Burnie called, Madeline came, seriously to sit upon the garden bench at his side.

"I have had such a gloriously restful afternoon," she said, "one of many recently spent in the same way. It has been like leaving the stage of a theater for a play, James, and going back into real life—simple life, and sweet." Madeline threw out her arms with a free gesture.

"A place, where no critical audience forever awaits one's acting. So, I cast aside my acting, James, and I was just a tired girl, comforted and cheered by the kindest human heart that ever beat. It has been an experience, James, to meet such a nobly simple soul," she said.

"During one of my first afternoon drives I became faint and left my car in the road, while I asked at a little cottage for some milk to drink. An old Scotchman who keeps house there alone brought it to me. But first I must obey his commands and take the milk seated in a great comfy chair on the porch. Afterwards, I must see his neat house and his garden, and as we walked together his shrewd old eyes seemed to read my very life. I did not need to tell him that my doctor had ordered rest and country air, or that I was sick unto death of committees and various public affairs. The old Scotchman knew it all—he had read it in my face. And he planned, with a planning which I did not realize at the time, that I must stop tomorrow to pick the big roses in his garden, and the next day, to look at his purple plum-laden tree. So every day I came to rest in the bolstered old chair on the porch with the glass of cream waiting and growing larger each time, while the old man talked to me of life, of books, of people, until I felt that I had failed before in much knowledge that was true and needful. He spoke of his boy, and his tone was as tender as it was proud."

Madeline stood up, her eyes were shining.

"My dear old man, tells me that his name is James Burnie. But when he speaks of his son, he calls him just—'Jamie.'"

With a happy laugh the girl put out her hands.

"I have not seen this garden by moonlight, 'Jamie,'" she said. "Will you take me there now, to visit—your father?"

Truth About Cat's Eyes.

A cat can see better in the dusk than can a human being because the cat's eyes are sensitive to ultra-violet rays. Its pupils are capable of greater expansion than those of man's or of almost any other animal, thus admitting more light. The cat uses its whiskers for feelers in the dark. Its sure-footedness is a great help to it. So it gets along better in the dark than most animals. The belief that it can see by night with the same degree of clearness as by day is, however, erroneous.

PRAISE FOR Y. M. C. A.

(By Lee M. Bennett, Editor Pillager Herald, a returned soldier)

A year ago today the writer sat in a homelike, pretty little Y. M. C. A. hut in France, writing a letter home. We were comfortable and as contented and happy as could be expected. The surroundings were made cheerful by the man and lady in charge of the little hut. We just had our first ten days in the trenches in the Toul sector; we had had our first real touch of trench warfare. Out there it was a constant vigil day and night always looking over No-Man's land at the German lines. Eats were slim, and delicacies were out of the question. But today was July 4th. We couldn't celebrate it with lots of noise and shooting guns—our "buddies" four miles out in front of us were doing that. We didn't want to celebrate anyway—we were too tired for that. We wanted a place to rest, to write letters, and to buy chocolate, gum, tobacco—and lemonade. We found these things at the "Y" within easy gun shot of the German artillery. The little lady was perhaps the busiest one of all, giving the boys a woman's smile as she handed out the lemonade that she had so industriously made. Later, in the Argonne, this same little lady was within a mile of the firing line giving out chocolate and cookies to the boys as they came back wounded—always working—until at last the Regimental commander ordered her to a safer place in the rear. That was the general spirit of the Y. M. C. A. as the Herald editor found it for thirteen months in France. And not only this girl, but hundreds of others, and men too, worked hour after hour in their endeavor to make things pleasant for the soldier boys as possible. The "Y" hut was a Godsend to the boys "Over There" and I for one, will always have a deep-down feeling in my heart for the "Y" and its members who helped to make my time in France the more cheerful.

The "Y" has been criticised. Yes, mistakes have been made. They took over the canteen service from the government on a minute's notice. Its secretaries in general were new to the work, though many left good paying jobs in the States that they could help in France. Like any large concern employing hundreds of employees, some were bound to not do right, and break the confidence and trust bestowed on them. And from personal observation and talks with other soldiers, it was on account of the actions of some such secretaries that the "Y" is condemned. But it should not be so. Every organization there did its work well, nobly, and I have praise for them all, and if I myself was to go back and go through it again, my preference over all would be for the Y. M. C. A. May God ever bless those American girls who sacrificed home pleasures to do their bit in France.

THE VETERINARIANS

The veterinarian fills an important niche in the scheme of life. By conserving the health of the animal kingdom, he also contributes to the increased well being of the human family, largely composed of meat eaters.

That the work of the veterinarian is a valuable one and the animals he treats are important in the scheme of civilization, one has but to note that the U. S. government annually spends thousands to segregate the cholera bug and preserve the life of the pigs, while the flu germ flirts with impunity with humanity and has incurred comparatively little governmental expense when it came to segregating it.

And again as to the value of patients treated. There are some Holstein bulls worth from $60,000 to $100,000. There are many newspaper men not worth that much, that is in a financial way, and let me tell you that the $100,000 bull gets more care from a veterinarian than a lot of human beings ever get.

These little points are simply brought out to show that the profession of a veterinarian involves thorough study and practice and that his calling is one of decided value to any community in which he settles.

"FROM AN INTOXICATING STANDPOINT"

(Royalty Banner)

Monday night war time prohibition went into effect over the nation and Royalty is now dry from an intoxicating standpoint the first time in many years. The saloons the following day opened up as soft drink dispensaries and if the new state law is lived up to nothing with more "kick" in it than one-half of one percent can be disposed of, and no intoxicating liquors of any kind may be stored anywhere in former saloon buildings.

BIG PAPERS FAVORED

Did you notice the full page ads in the city dailies calling for army and navy recruits. These ads were authorized and paid for by the government while the "country papers" are asked to furnish publicity along the same lines—free of charge. ## Youth and Purpose.

It is not youth alone that thinks it "knows it all"—most of our older people could with distinct advantage take our A's over again. How differently we would map out our lives and how much less censorious we would be of the failures and gaudier of others! Statistics prove that most of our own suffering and the suffering of the world is the outcome of ignorance, bearing in its wake conceit and stubbornness—a trilogy that balks progress in every form.

Education along right lines is our salvation. Then let us be patient and solicitous for the young people all over the land who are weaving bright dreams of purpose—after commencement.—New York Evening Telegram.

Chicago, July 10.—In anticipation of a repetition of the outbreak at the Corn Products Refining Company at Argo, a suburb, in which two alleged strikers were shot and killed and 50 persons injured, 90 deputy sheriffs have been taken into the plant.

The plant has been closed down and it is said no attempt will be made to resume operations for several days.

More than 150 shots were fired in the battle, the guards relying chiefly on their rifles. Eye witnesses say the strikers appeared to be armed chiefly with clubs and rocks. None of the guards was wounded by bullets, so far as known.

150 Refuse to Strike.

The shooting was the climax of a day of tension for the village of Argo where employees who had been recently organized by the Federal union, an auxiliary of the International Union of United Brewers, Flour, Cereal and Soft Drink Workers, declared a strike, in effect, to enforce demands for a closed shop.

About 150 girls and 200 men, who had refused to join the walk-out, remained at the plant. Federal union officials said 1,900 of the company's 2,500 employees were organized. Company officials say only 900 were organized.

Some 1,000 of the employees hired a band and paraded through the streets of Argo, waving American flags and wearing buttons on which were inscribed "The Argo Labor Union," and underneath, "The Chicago Federation of Labor." After the parade they assembled about the entrance to the plant, a massive stone gateway, surrounding a 10 foot fence of boards and barbed wire.

Nurse in Car Attacked.

They contented themselves for some time with picketing the fence. Miss Elizabeth Horgan, official nurse for the company, was seen driving toward the plant in an automobile. The strikers began throwing stones. The car had an inclosed top. All the windows were broken.

They surrounded the car and Miss Horgan was subjected to taunts and gibes, she says. Some of the strikers had assumed menacing attitudes, according to witnesses, when Charles Johannes, chief of the company's police force, came to her assistance. He was pelted with stones and suffered scalp bruises, but conducted Miss Horgan to safety.

A majority of the 1,200 employees of the company's plant at Pekin went on strike when the time limit to accede to the demand for a "closed shop" expired.

Troops Ordered to Be Ready.

If Sheriff Peters is unable to maintain order at the plant, state troops will be called out, according to officials of Argo. Four companies of the Second regiment of the Illinois Reserve Militia, stationed in Oak Park, a suburb, received orders to prepare for service.

FROM CHERRY-BLOSSOM LAND

The Japanese Give Good Example

It is a proverb of Cherry Blossom Land that beauty of face and figure depend on womanly health.

What is it that makes our American women often pale, sallow-faced, with dark circles under the eyes, and very often old at forty-five when they should be in their prime?

Women suffer in girlhood from back-ache, spine-ache and headaches, followed by irregularities and as a result diseases of the womanly organs are more common than any one but a physician in active practice could suppose.

After long experience in the treatment of women's diseases, Dr. Pierce evolved a vegetable tonic and corrective which he called Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This is a purely vegetable preparation, without a particle of alcohol contained in it.

When a woman complains of backache, dizziness or pain—when everything looks black before her eyes—a dragging feeling, or bearing-down, with nervousness, she should turn to this "temperance" herbal tonic. It can be obtained in almost every drug store in the land and the ingredients are printed in plain English on the wrapper. Put up in tablets or liquid. Dr. Pierce, of Laval's Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., will send a trial size of the tablets for ten cents.

Aubrey Dean-Paul, some years ago sued Baron Churston, then John Reginald Yarde-Buller, for breach of promise. The case caused a sensation at the time. Last April she married Capt. Arthur Eliot, a dramatist, grandson of the late Earl of St. Germans.

PACIFIC FLEET TO SAIL SOON

Will Leave Hampton Roads for West Coast on July 19.

Washington, July 10.—The newly organized Pacific fleet will sail from Hampton Roads for the west coast Saturday, July 19, it was announced at the navy department. Admiral Hugh Rodman is commander of the fleet.

The fleet will be the biggest naval force ever to go through the Panama canal, it was stated. It is possible an effort will be made to get the big fighting craft through as rapidly as possible to establish a speed record.

First Man to Sue U. S.

Sioux City, Iowa, July 10.—Leo L. Covey of Cherokee, Iowa, who was seriously wounded at Chateau-Thierry has filed suit in the federal court against the U. S. government for $22,640 damage alleged to have been guaranteed him under the war insurance act, at the time of his enlistment. He was totally disabled. The case is notable in that it is said to be the first time in the history of the United States that suit has ever been filed against the United States by an individual.

Pittsburgh, July 10.—The government's drive against the sale of beer containing 2 1/4 per cent alcohol was launched here, when U. S. Attorney R. L. Crawford filed a suit against the Pittsburgh Brewing company, one of the city's largest breweries, in the United States district court today, charging violation of the wartime prohibition law.

Eleven officials of the company were named in the information. Immediately following filing of the suit, Judge W. H. Thompson, on pleas of the federal attorney, issued a writ upon the company to appear in court. Simultaneously he issued bench war-

Kept Old Funeral Custom.

Following an old family custom, the body of Mrs. G. H. Haigh, daughter of the late Sir Robert Hart, was buried at midnight in the family vault at the little village church at Waltham, England. The body of Mrs. Haigh, who was eighty-nine years of age, was brought from Penrhynendrach, Wales, and conveyed from the station to the church in a funeral wagon, drawn by four black horses and escorted by three dozen men carrying lanterns. Six Welshmen acted as bearers. The only floral tribute was a large cross of evergreens.

JUDGE STANTON DENIED ORDER

At 2:50 P. M. Judge C. W. Stanton denied a restraining order checking the building of a water tower and tank on railway right of way ground, and the city is thus a winner in the suit. City Attorney H. F. Fullerton represented the city in the arguments before Judge Stanton, and George H. Gardner appeared for himself. The matter at issue was the lease entered into by city and railway company and its legality. Judge Stanton will file in a few days his written memorandum stating his reasons for the order.

Some fifty citizens met at Gardner auditorium on Wednesday evening at the call of former Senator George H. Gardner to discuss the matter of erecting a $30,000 concrete water tower and tank of the city, part of the waterworks improvement, on railway right of way ground.

From the sentiment gathered no one really was against the offer of the Northern Pacific Railway company except Mr. Gardner.

True, the lease was shown to be one of permissive occupancy, from year to year and Vice President A. A. Weidemann of the water and light board, and W. H. Gemmell of the Minnesota & International Railway company, showed the railway company was unable to alienate any of its right of way land except through annual leasehold or permissive occupancy.

There are many industries in Brainerd as well as eight states located on right of way of the railroad and Mr. Weidemann stated no one could show where any such interest had ever suffered damage by reason of its tenure of occupancy through such leasehold.

Mr. Gardner contended that land should be acquired by the city either through purchase or condemnation and that such a leasehold as of right of way of a railroad, was not legal.

Thursday morning the matter was heard by Judge C. W. Stanton in district court chambers.

APPRAISERS' AWARDS IN CONDEMNATION

The appraisers, George McCulloch, J. J. Tucker and James Ingram have made their awards in the city condemnation of lands for its waterworks project.

Johnston Land Co., of St. Paul, 30 acres, $4,112.50.

Geo. Benz & Sons of St. Paul, 19 city lots, $500. H. E. Kundert of Brainerd had acquired the Benz interests.

"It is further resolved, that this resolution be spread upon the minutes of this association and a copy sent to Dr. Lyford.

M. R. HIGBEE,

Chairman.

J. H. ELMES,

J. N. GOULD."

At the Wednesday afternoon session of the Minnesota State Veterinary Association, Dr. J. N. Gould of Worthington, gave a most interesting and instructive paper on the practice of obstetrics of swine. He pointed out that swine practice was becoming a very important part of a veterinarian's work. Owners of swine can be educated to a very great appreciation of careful and skillful obstetrical service by the veterinarian. The practitioner must be absolutely clean and sanitary in this particular work. Dr. Gould also pointed out the great value of Caesarian section in cases of dystokia in swine. He stated that his results following this operation were excellent and that many animals were saved.

Dr. H. C. Hackett

Dr. N. C. Hackett, Bureau of Animal Industry, South St. Paul, spoke on the control of hog cholera. In the past six years the value of hogs had doubled, and losses from hog cholera were decreasing. Hog production in Minnesota in six years increased 539,000 head. The cholera loss was reduced from nineteen per cent in 1914 to 2.2 per cent in 1918 and the value of swine in Minnesota in 1918 was $44,670,000 as compared with $21,613,000 in 1913. Hog cholera is a menace insofar as ninety per cent of all hogs lost through all ailments die of cholera.

Cholera Treatment.

Success in the treatment of infected herds depended largely upon the care given the hog after treatment. Up to the present time there was no drug or combination of drugs known which can be regarded as a preventative or cure for hog cholera in the true sense of the word. The only known agent which is reliable is anti-hog cholera serum or serum and virus treatment.

Veterinarians should always remember that sanitation, thorough cleaning and disinfecting, sunlight in hog pens, proper feeding and watering facilities, keeping hogs, lots and pastures well fenced, are essentials in keeping cholera out of their clients' herds, if they raise their own stock.

Slogan for Veterinarian.

If cholera appears quarantine, temperature swine, vaccinate, use large doses of serum on infected, segregate and observe items of prevention. After the outbreak has abated, kill and properly dispose of swine that have not fully recovered and thoroughly clean and disinfect clients' stock.

LIVESTOCK FOR SUMMER PASTURAGE

County Agricultural Agent E. G. Roth and F. H. Simpson Visit South Long Lake Farmers

MANY PLEDGE LOT OF ACREAGE

While Crops of the Township are the Finest in County, the Roads are the Poorest

The Long Lake Farmer's Club held a very interesting meeting at their hall at South Long Lake the evening of July 5th and in spite of the fact that many of their members were still recovering from the effects of the 4th, about 50 were present to attend the meeting. Talks were given by the County Agent and F. H. Simpson of the Citizens State bank of Brainerd on cattle and sheep and their values both as to market value and to clear land. Plans were discussed informally afterwards as to the securing of livestock for summer pasturage to help relieve the pasture shortage in Montana.

Many farmers offered the use of their land for cattle or sheep pasturage to Montana stockmen, several thousand acres being secured for this purpose. These farmers realize that by securing a large amount of stock in this county that they not only receive what rental Montana stockmen man offer for the use of waste land, but also will bring in stock some of which will be available for purchase by Crow Wing county farmers. It also will put the land into better shape and lessen fire danger.

At the meeting the ladies of the Farmers' club served excellent refreshments which were appreciated by all.

It was noted that while the crops of Long Lake township are some of the finest in the county if not in the state, and promise a yield greater than has been seen here in a number of years, that the roads are probably the poorest in the county, and that a great deal of work is required to put them in shape to haul this year's crops to market.

RATES CAUSE TROUBLE

Mistaken Impression Prevails that New Postage Rates Carry Drop Letters at One Cent

Many patrons of the Brainerd post office including business houses are under the mistaken impression that the restoration of the pre-war postage rate permits them to mail drop letters, that is letters for delivery in Brainerd post office district, at one cent. This is not the case. The regular, two cent rate is charged at all post offices and has been so charged for more than thirty years where there is free delivery service. This has caused considerable confusion and delay in delivery of mail sent with sufficient postage as such letters will have to be returned to the sender for want of sufficient postage.

SUFFERING ON RUSSIAN FRONT

Brainerd Soldier, Fred Cossette, Writes a Harrowing Story of Privation Endured

ARE FIGHTING TWO BATTLES

Trying to Keep From Starving to Death and Dodging Bullets, Men on Detached Service

In a letter which eluded the censor, being carried across seas and then mailed in the United States, Fred Cossette of the 168th Co. Transport Corps, United States Army, Brainerd boy stationed at Syren, North Russia, under date of May 28, describes the suffering and privation of American soldiers stationed here.

He says: "We are under the British and they sure are trying to give us a rotten deal. Our ration is rotten, that is English corn bull, M. & V. mixture and their old hardtack which our dogs refuse to eat, but they expect us to fight and work with that kind of stuff.

"We do not get any potatoes or vegetables of any kind nor bread and if I have to stay here for the winter I am going to dig my own grave, providing some Bolshevik does not bump me off and that will save me the trouble.

"We came to this country to open up the railroads so as to get American troops out of Archangel, but we are not doing such work.

"We are fighting for our lives, as the Russians do not want us here and we have no business here at all. They put us on detached service in which they split us all up in small bunches of twenty and thirty. Well, we have captured several towns and now we are on our way to Petrograd.

"When we came over to this country we had 720 men and now we have 340 left, so you can imagine how the Bolsheviks are bumping us off. They have got us outnumbered 50 to 1 and they have good guns and plenty of ammunition. We are using Russian guns and what we captured from the Bolsheviks.

"We are trying to fight two battles at once, that is, trying to keep from starving to death and dodging bullets.

"We did pretty well a week ago when we held up a train and got a carload of jam, cigarettes, tobacco, sugar, hardtack, coffee and also a carload of rum and we sure had a good time. These rations belong to the British. They say the bloody Yanks steal everything and even take our bloody rum.

"We do all the fighting and the British want all the credit. All we want is a transport to take us to the U. S. A. and then we will tell the people all about this war in Russia and also tell them about France.

"We do not have any trenches to fight in over here. It is all swamp land and rocks. We are living worse than a bunch of hogs. You should see us. We are full of cooties, dirty, ragged, no hair cut, no shave and you should see your ragged soldier now. I sure would like to have a picture of myself just to show you what I look like.

"I have been a bum in the states, but that was a paradise compared with the life I am putting up with in this dump.

"This is the first chance I ever had to tell you about this old war, as the censor will not get to see this letter at all. There are a few of our boys leaving for the U. S. A. in a few days, wounded and discharged, and one is taking my letter, and will mail it in the states.

"Two were discharged on application of their mothers. Mother could do the same, but I am not looking for anything like that.

"When I land in the states they will have to civilize me all over again, as I am as ignorant and dumb as a mule. Show this letter to my old pal Hank. Will tell you more about this old war when I get home."

THE number of new customers we are gaining daily is convincing that there is something about our complete home-furnishing store distinguishing it from the ordinary run of stores. premises. As a slogan adopt strict quarantine, sanitation, less cholera and swine diseases and more hogs.

Dr. C. W. Gay.

Dr. C. W. Gay, University Farm, spoke on "Animal Husbandry and Veterinary Practice." Adopting the stockman's view was the most successful for the practitioner. See the thing from the other man's point of view. He reviewed ration for animals. Maintenance was the first point, then production.

Mayor F. E. Little

At the evening session Mayor F. E. Little welcomed the delegates to the city and hoped their stay would be a pleasant one. Brainerd was situated in the heart of the 10,000 lakes section, in the mining and agricultural country, and was daily growing in importance. Veterinarians through their success in handling animal diseases and stamping out tuberculosis had contributed much to the health of the human family.

Legislative Committee.

The legislative committee will make a complete report Thursday when Dr. R. J. Coccen arrives.

Election Officers.

There will be no election of officers. That occurs at the annual meeting next January which will be held in St. Paul.

At the evening session Wednesday Dr. C. P. Fitch, University Farm, made a happy response to the mayor's address. He was followed by Dr. C. E. Cotton, executive secretary of the Minnesota Live Stock Sanitary Board, St. Paul, who spoke on "Live Stock Sanitary Control Measures, Laws and Regulations."

Smoker

After the program a smoker was tendered the association by the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce and visiting doctors and local men vied in telling experiences, anecdotes, etc.

Speakers at the smoker included Dr. J. A. Thabes, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Rev. H. J. Wolner, pastor of St. Paul's Episcopal church; Col. C. D. Johnson, former state senator; R. R. Gould and O. J. Bouma, all of Brainerd.

The veterinarians had a jolly time and following the speaking various members of the association made use of the piano and a community sing was indulged in.

Reception

A reception was given the ladies at the home of Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Nelson. On Thursday afternoon there will be a theatre party for them at the Best.

Closing Session

The Minnesota State Veterinary Medical Association on Thursday afternoon closed its twenty-first semi-annual meeting and the Brainerd convention will go down in their annals as one of the best in almost a quarter century.

A notable feature marking interest in the association and the co-operation of recent graduates was the increased membership recorded, twenty-five new members joining at Brainerd.

Honorary Membership

A pleasing recognition of the services of Dr. C. W. Gay of Worthington, of the University Farm, was electing him to honorary membership in the association.

Examining Board.

Thursday morning the work of the State Veterinary Examining Board was reviewed by A. J. Tupa, executive secretary. Twenty-five cases of illegal veterinary practice were investigated and twelve convictions secured. The examining fee is $25 and the candidate must obtain an average of 75 or more on all subjects and on failure must take another entirely new examination, and pay another fee.

Dr. C. E. Cotton.

A very important address was delivered by Dr. C. E. Cotton, executive secretary of the Minnesota Livestock Sanitary Board of St. Paul, who spoke on livestock sanitary control measures, laws and regulations.

Dr. K. J. McKenzie of Northfield had a most interesting topic on "Case Reports. Sterility of Cattle." Much discussion followed.

Dr. W. L. Boyd of the University Farm spoke on "Retained Placenta and methods of treatment."

Major D. B. Palmer of Minneapolis, in war service, gave an opportune address on "Army Veterinary Service in France."

Stock Judging

In the afternoon automobiles provided by the Chamber of Commerce conveyed the hundred veterinarians to dairy farms in the vicinity of Brainerd where W. A. McKerrrow, extension livestock specialist, University Farm, gave a demonstration of the judging of livestock. This was attended also by County Agricultural Agent E. G. Roth and many farmers of the district.
